The Lost Sheep,
The Lost Coin
& The Lost Son

The Lost Sheep

A farmer has a hundred sheep.
He counts each one, then falls asleep.
Most nights, the counting goes just fine.
But now, there are just ninety-nine.

The farmer grabs his favorite hook.
He leaves the flock and starts to look.
He has to find the missing one before the day and night are done.

The farmer searches through the night.
But there is not a sheep in sight.
That loving shepherd won't give in until the sheep is found again.

The shepherd heard a sheepish sound.
At last the missing sheep is found!
He picks the sheep up in his arms and carries it away from harm.
